Introduction

CEN/TC 136/SC 1, the committee responsible for the development of EN 1176 standards, considered that there may be risks to children associated with placing playgrounds in the vicinity of other recreational facilities such as multisport arenas, bouldering walls, roller sport facilities, football goals, outdoor fitness equipment and Parkour facilities. In addition, environmental features such as fast flowing water, deep water with steep banks, roads, and natural formations such as cliffs, can also create hazards if in the proximity of playgrounds.

Specific safety requirements for recreational facilities are covered by their own standards. However, these individual standards do not cover possible risks related to the proximity to other recreational facilities and other environmental hazards.

This technical report gives advice to designers, providers, and inspectors on methods of positioning and separating different recreational facilities, to help reduce the potential risks.

There are four principal methods of separation. These are distance, natural features, fencing and signage, or a combination of these.
