This Amendment to the European Standard EN 1999-1-4:2007 shall be given the status of a national standard, either by publication of an identical text or by endorsement, at the latest by August 2012, and conflicting national standards shall be withdrawn at the latest by August 2012.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. CEN [and/or CENELEC] shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights.

According to the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations, the national standards organizations of the following countries are bound to implement this European Standard: Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

1 Modification to 3.1

6025-7072 alclad ⁶⁾	AlMg2,5SiMnCu- AlZn1 alclad ⁶⁾	A	H34	5	210	165	2-3
			H36	5	220	185	2-4

6) EN AW-6025-7072 alclad (EN AW-AlMg2,5SiMnCu-AlZn1 alclad) is a composite material with core material EN AW-6025 and a cladding on both sides with EN AW-7072. For reasons of durability the cladding should have a thickness of at least 4% of the overall thickness of the material on each side. If the thickness of the cladding exceeds 5% this fact should be considered in the structural calculations, i.e. only the core thickness of the composite sheet should be taken in account. For these reasons the minimum cladding thickness of 4% and the minimum core thickness should be specified in the execution specification in order that the constructor can procure the corresponding constituent products with inspection certificate 3.1.
